

‘Yinihugheltani’

Kenai Social Emotional Learning and the Arts Virtual Institute

Yinihugheltanni is Dena’ina for ‘One’s Spirit’ or Respect for Yourself

June 1-5, 2021 • Virtual Arts Institute • 2 credits

The arts can have a profound impact on the social emotional health of your students. SEL helps young people grow into confident, caring citizens. Join this inaugural SEL institute, and develop knowledge and skills to benefit your classroom & curriculum through the arts!

Sadie Cove Petroglyphs, Kenai Peninsula, discovered 1930's, enhanced image

Teacher Leaders

Lorrie Heagy, Music
Robyn Zinzer, Movement
Debbie Piper, Visual Art
George Holly, Culture

Registration

$200 member districts
$300 non-member districts
Kenai scholarships available

Credits

2-credits, 500 level available

Questions:

Barbara Short, Executive Director
bshort@akartsed.org

Register at: www.akartsed.org

Social and emotional learning (SEL) is the process through which people understand and manage emotions, set and achieve positive goals, feel and show empathy for others, establish and maintain positive relationships, and make responsible decisions.